

NVIDIA Q2 2025 Financial Report

This quarterly report summarizes operational and financial performance for NVIDIA during Q2 2025.

| Section                    | Details                                                                            |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Revenue Growth             | NVIDIA reported 28% year-over-year revenue growth during Q2 2025.                  |
| Operating Margin           | Operating margin improved to 30.4% due to operational optimization and product dem |
| Risk Factors               | Geopolitical risks and rising AI competition                                       |
| AI / Strategic Initiatives | Launch of next-generation AI accelerators                                          |
| Guidance                   | Management expects continued demand for AI-enabled products and international ma   |

End of quarterly report. Generated for FinSight AI trend analysis testing.